Citizen Participation — It is in full compliance and following a detailed citizen participation plan that satisfies the requirements of 24 CFR 91.105.

Community Development Plan — Its consolidated housing and community development plan identifies community development and housing needs and specifies both short-term and long-term community development objectives that provide decent housing, expand economic opportunities primarily for persons of low and moderate income. Executive Summary

AP-05 Executive Summary - 24 CFR 91.200(c), 91.220(b)

1. Introduction

The City of Cleveland became a Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Entitlement Community in 2004. The third 5 Year Consolidated Plan (Con Plan) was submitted in 2014 and covers the period commencing July 1, 2014 to June 30, 2019. Con Plans are a requirement of HUD for jurisdictions such as Cleveland that received Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds.

The Consolidated Plan has several primary sections including a Housing Needs Assessment that assesses needs for affordable housing, homelessness, special needs populations, and non-housing community development needs. The Con Plan also includes a Housing Market Analysis that evaluates existing housing stock and resources. There is a Strategic Plan that outlines objectives for the five-year planning period and a 1 Year Annual Action Plan that sets goals and allocates funding for the upcoming year between various eligible activities and projects. Other sections found in the Con Plan address the methodology for citizen participation and the institutional structure for delivering services and programs.

This document is the second year Action Plan and describes the actions, projects and programs that the City of Cleveland will implement to address priority needs identified in the Con Plan. The City anticipates receiving $345,924 for the program year starting July 1, 2015. Annual funding in that approximate amount is expected for program years three through five.

2. Summarize the objectives and outcomes identified in the Plan

This could be a restatement of items or a table listed elsewhere in the plan or a reference to another location. It may also contain any essential items from the housing and homeless needs assessment, the housing market analysis or the strategic plan.

The Con Plan identified six overarching priority community development and affordable housing needs:

- Affordable housing for renters and homebuyers;
- Public awareness of fair housing laws and lead-based paint requirements;
- Transitional and supportive housing needs;
- Housing and supportive services for the elderly and disabled;
• Code enforcement; and
• Public facility and infrastructure improvement.

From these priorities and within the context of limited funding resources, four goals were developed with the following proposed CDBG allocations for program year 2015/2016:

• Code Enforcement - $65,000
• Public Improvements - $11,744
• Affordable Housing - $200,000
• Planning/Administration - $69,180

3. Evaluation of past performance

This is an evaluation of past performance that helped lead the grantee to choose its goals or projects.

The above allocation of resources continues successful initiatives and partnerships built during previous program years. The City of Cleveland has been very successful in attacking affordable housing standards and neighborhood quality issues with targeted codes enforcement and improvements to neighborhood infrastructure. Likewise, the City’s affordable housing initiatives have relied on working in partnership with area non-profit providers to leverage additional housing resources and expertise. The specific projects proposed for the second year Action Plan are largely the result of the City’s evaluation of how similar earlier activities have performed.

4. Summary of Citizen Participation Process and consultation process

Summary from citizen participation section of plan.

During the Action Plan process, the City of Cleveland consulted with a wide variety of housing and service organizations, civic organizations, neighborhood residents and groups, Departments of local government, elected officials, and others. The organizations and groups invited to participate covered the major providers of affordable housing, emergency housing, special needs housing, community facilities, services for youth, elderly, and disabled. Sections of government supplying public community centers, parks, recreation, and open space, public works such as sidewalk, street, water/sewer, and stormwater improvements, and with public safety officers focused on permitting and code compliance within CDBG target areas, as well as the Cleveland Municipal Planning Commission. A list of key consultations is included in this document.
The City held three public meetings with public hearings attached to all three meetings. These meetings/hearings were well attended and interpretative services were available for Spanish speakers.

5. Summary of public comments

This could be a brief narrative summary or reference an attached document from the Citizen Participation section of the Con Plan.

Public comments are attached as an appendix to the Action Plan.

6. Summary of comments or views not accepted and the reasons for not accepting them

All comments were reviewed and accepted. All comments are in the Appendix section.

7. Summary

The City of Cleveland has leveraged its CDBG resources well in the past and will continue to do so in the future based upon the goals identified during this process. All of the meetings held were well attended and responsive. The city expects to fully engage in the goals identified for the upcoming program year.

1. Introduction

The following table provides a list of partners, agencies, and organizations consulted during the Action Plan process.

The table can be found in the appendix.

Provide a concise summary of the jurisdiction’s activities to enhance coordination between public and assisted housing providers and private and governmental health, mental health and service agencies (91.215(l))

During the Consolidated Plan and Action Planning process, the City of Cleveland consulted with a wide variety of housing and service organizations, civic organizations, neighborhood residents and groups, Departments of local government, elected officials, and others. The list of key consultations is included in this document. The organizations and groups consulted covered the major providers of affordable housing, emergency housing, special needs housing, community facilities, services for youth, elderly, and disabled. There were also consultations with the sections of government supplying public community centers, parks, recreation, and open space, public works such as sidewalk, street, water/sewer, and stormwater improvements, and with public safety officers focused on permitting and code compliance within CDBG target areas.

Describe coordination with the Continuum of Care and efforts to address the needs of homeless persons (particularly chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans, and unaccompanied youth) and persons at risk of homelessness.

The City of Cleveland works closely with the Cleveland Emergency Shelter, the only emergency shelter for homeless persons within the jurisdiction. The Cleveland Shelter is part of the Continuum of Care and actively participates in the CoC planning process. Although Cleveland has not been a direct entitlement jurisdiction for the Emergency Shelter Grant (ESG) program, they do participate and receive funding under the State of Tennessee’s small cities program administered by the Tennessee Housing and Development Agency (THDA). The City of Cleveland matches the ESG program with assistance to the Cleveland Shelter. The shelter provides more than just emergency housing, it also provides employment training in-house, life skills training, and helps reduce homelessness by helping with utilities, deposits, and correcting arrearages.
Describe consultation with the Continuum(s) of Care that serves the jurisdiction’s area in determining how to allocate ESG funds, develop performance standards for and evaluate outcomes of projects and activities assisted by ESG funds, and develop funding, policies and procedures for the operation and administration of HMIS

As described above, the City of Cleveland works most often with the Cleveland Emergency Shelter on meeting the needs homeless persons and families. The Shelter has future plans for a transitional shelter to better enable the homeless to move from a shelter situation to a more independent living arrangement in a unit of their own. There is also concern over the lack of adequate accommodations for the chronic homeless that experience recurring episodes of homelessness for longer periods of time. The City will continue to work with the Cleveland Shelter, the CoC, and other potential providers and partners involved in these initiatives.

2. Describe Agencies, groups, organizations and others who participated in the process and describe the jurisdiction’s consultations with housing, social service agencies and other entities

Narrative (optional)

There are numerous other sources of public entities investing in community development improvements in Cleveland. The CoC and the role of the Cleveland Emergency Shelter and their receipt of Emergency Shelter Grant funds through HUD via the State of Tennessee were described previously. Likewise, Habitat has received SHOP grants from HUD and the Bradley Cleveland Community Service Agency receives LIHEAP funds from the Department of Energy and CHDO funds from HUD, again via the State of Tennessee. The Cleveland Public Housing Authority is actively applying for funding to redevelop their sites to reduce density, attain additional housing vouchers, and provide additional open space. All of these efforts, initiatives, and partnerships between local agencies and other entities of government are supported by the City of Cleveland and leverage its community development work with those organizations and in the same targeted neighborhoods. The Consolidated Planning process has taken these into account by consulting and planning with these agencies. Where possible the City of Cleveland strategically commits its resources to further those efforts.

The City has a working relationship with Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland. In the past the City and Habitat have collaborated on developing individual properties, tracts of land, and on helping finance low to moderate income buyers. Habitat for Humanity’s business approach is to develop without debt to keep the cost of home buying as affordable as possible for their buyers. Their needs are programming that increases the affordability and availability of opportunities for homeownership, and land at low cost. Habitat also has started a rehab program called Brush With Kindness in part of the CDBG target area. As a partner with the City, Habitat also brings considerable leverage per each house developed by way of their standard $50,000 sponsorship per house from a local business or other entity. The City of Cleveland foresees continuing this collaboration as strategic opportunities arise.

Annual Action Plan
The Bradley Cleveland Community Services Agency administers a wide variety of self-sufficiency and community service programs. These include weatherization assistance through the federal LIHEAP program, homebuyer education as a certified THDA counseling agency, job training programs, and the education and dissemination of fair housing information. In addition, the Bradley Cleveland CSA owns and operates rental housing, has been a state certified Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO) since 1993, operates a senior activity center and nutrition center next Cleveland public housing.

The United Way of Bradley County has an initiative called Impact Cleveland whose leading goals are: housing rehabilitation; social revitalization and community events; neighborhood safety; developing leadership; and workforce development. Their initial focus is the Blythe Neighborhood located within the CDBG target area. The City plans on coordinating closely with this new initiative and strategically supporting its mission where that mission compliments and leverages their community development programming.

Three public meetings were held for the 2015 Action Plan. The first public hearing was held on September 22, 2014 in conjunction with the approval of the CAPER for FY2013-2014 to kick off the planning process for 2014. Thirty-six persons attended the public hearing. Newspaper announcements and website announcement were used to advertise the meeting.

The second public hearing was held on February 24, 2015 in the Community Room at the Police Service Center. The meeting was moved due to elevator issues. Notices were placed outside the Municipal Building. The Police Service Center Community Room is located next door to the Municipal Building. The purpose of the meeting was to provide an overview of the CDBG program, Action Plan process, allocation for 2015, previously funded projects and current goals and projects for the current year, and to hear public comments. There was good participation during the meeting. Also discussed was the Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice Study, the Fair Housing Act, protected classes, purpose of the AI and identified impediments. Twenty-three persons attended the second meeting. Attendees included community representatives, city partners including United Way and Habitat for Humanity, and city department officials. A Hispanic translator was available.

The third public hearing was held on April 20, 2015 in the Community Room at the Police Service Center. Public Notice was also made on April 6, 2015 regarding the availability of the draft plan. A formal presentation outlined the recommendations, goals and suggested funding allocations. Twenty-three persons also attended this public meeting and participated in the process.

Public advertisement methods are included as an Appendix to the Action Plan. In general, meetings were advertised in the local paper, a Hispanic publication, on the City of Cleveland’s website in both English and Spanish, and an extensive list of service providers and interested parties were directly mailed and emailed. A Spanish interpreter was available at the second and third meetings but was not utilized.

All community outreach efforts, comments, and input are available in the Appendix.

Introduction

The 2015-2016 Annual Allocation is anticipated to be funded consistently with prior years funding at $345,924. Any anticipated resources from other sources will be leveraged with the CDBG sources in the future to maximize and address the community development needs.

Explain how federal funds will leverage those additional resources (private, state and local funds), including a description of how matching requirements will be satisfied

The City of Cleveland has leveraged most of its projects since the inception of the city’s CDBG program. It will continue its efforts to work with private, state, and local departments, agencies, and nonprofits to ensure that projects are completed effectively. If projects are proposed in the CDBG target area, the CDBG grant manager will work with the proposing agency to see how the project can be leveraged and if match requirements will be required for each project. Other low to moderate income areas in the city will be evaluated and considered as projects are identified.

If appropriate, describe publically owned land or property located within the jurisdiction that may be used to address the needs identified in the plan

If publically owned land is available for redevelopment proposals or community development assets, the grant manager will work with the entity proposing the project to ensure that the standards are consistent with CDBG rules and regulations as well as city procedures.

Estimate the number of extremely low-income, low-income, and moderate-income families to whom the jurisdiction will provide affordable housing as defined by HOME 91.215(b):

The City, in partnership with Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland, will provide funding for infrastructure improvements in Victory Cove an affordable housing subdivision. As a result, fifteen families will be assisted into homeownership.

The City, in partnership with a non-profit, will provide minor home repairs to 10 low income households who own their home.
AP-35 Projects – 91.220(d)

Introduction

The projects planned this year will focus on the affordability and availability of affordable housing in partnership with Habitat for Humanity, housing improvements in partnership with non-profit provider and continuing the prior years’ recreation goals and activities. By completing these projects and continuing the code enforcement in this area, the impact in the CDBG target area for greater livability options is available. Additionally, households will have greater access to recreational activities.

AP-50 Geographic Distribution – 91.220(f)

Description of the geographic areas of the entitlement (including areas of low-income and minority concentration) where assistance will be directed

The CDBG Target Area for the City of Cleveland covers all or parts of four low to moderate income census tracts (CTs 104, 107, 108, and part of 103). The area is roughly bounded by Westland Drive and Magnolia Avenue to the west; 20th Street NE and Old Tasso Road NE to the north; Little Chatata Creek and Appalachian Highway to the east; and Appalachian Highway to the south. Downtown Cleveland is directly west/northwest of the target area. Data in this section is taken from the 2012 5 year ACS census.

Social Characteristics: The estimated Target Area population is over 13,000. There are 5,149 total households. Householders living alone range from a high of 42% in CT 104 to a low of 29% in CT 103; elderly households account for approximately one-third to one-half of those households in each CT. At least 20% of the households in each tract have a disabled member. Of note, the target area population living in a different house the year before ranged from 24% to 30%, with the vast majority of those moving within the county.

While still predominately White, nearly one-third of Cleveland’s African-American population reside in the target area. Over one-third of the Hispanic population resides in the target area and nearly a quarter of the Asian population resides there as well. Tracts 104 and 108 have the largest concentrations of minority persons with 32% and 17% respectively.

Housing Characteristics: Within the CDBG target area there are 5,991 total housing units. Owner occupancy ranges from a high of 50% in CT 103 to a low of 25% in CT 104. The median value of owner-occupied housing ranges from $71,800 in CT 107 to $81,400 in CT 108. Gross rents ranges from $630 in CT 103 to $436 per month in CT 104. It is worth noting that of the four tracts, CT 104 has the lowest median value of owner occupied housing and the lowest gross rent for rental housing. Regardless of the specific tract, at least one-quarter of all owner-occupied households with a mortgage are cost burdened. Rental cost burden is a larger problem, ranging from a high of nearly 60% in CT 108 to a low of 40% in CT 103. Over half, more than of every two renter households in the target area are cost burdened.

Economic Characteristics: Median household income in the four CTs range from a high of $30,231 in CT 103 to a low of $16,750 in CT 104. Within CT 104 over 40% of households have incomes less than $15,000, and more than one in four have household income less than $10,000. This compares to $33,065 as the median household income for Cleveland as a whole. There are over 1600 households in the target area receiving social security income, 573 receiving supplemental security income (SSI), and over 1700 receiving food stamp assistance. The rate of families with incomes below the poverty level ranges from a high of 44% in CT 108 to a low of 19% in CT 103; the poverty rate for families in Cleveland as a whole is 19%. Within the civilian labor force unemployment ranges from a high of over 19% in CT 104 to a low of 13% in CT 103.

Table 10 - Geographic Distribution

Rationale for the priorities for allocating investments geographically

Collectively taken, the above referenced characteristics are the primary rationale for allocating community development investments within the CDBG target area. This is also a more densely developed detached single-family area on smaller lots, leading to the City’s strategy of improving the public spaces and facilities, particularly those spaces used for recreational purposes. The open spaces provide an opportunity for children to play and adults to exercise, and indoor space where non-profit and local government agencies can provide services to those in need, which are over represented in the low to moderate income CTs comprising the target area. An additional rationale is that the housing stock is generally older and there are a high percentage of rental properties, which when combined with lower incomes stress owners ability to maintain their properties. Lastly, targeting a limited area promises a bigger impact and the focusing of leveraged resources.

If low to moderate income projects are proposed outside of the CDBG target area, each will be evaluated and reviewed to ensure eligibility and consistency with the overall goals of the 2014-2019 Consolidated Plan.

Discussion

In general, the CDBG target area is targeted for investment because of heightened need. That need is evidenced by concentrations of minorities and others with lower incomes, higher housing cost burdens, higher unemployment rates, higher percentages of households living on fixed incomes, and higher percentages of households with a disabled member.
Affordable Housing

AP-55 Affordable Housing – 91.220(g)

Introduction

The City of Cleveland’s CDBG program supports affordable housing opportunities. With few exceptions, the CDBG regulations do not allow funds be used for the construction of housing. However, what is permitted and what had been an effective strategy for the City’s CDBG investments is supporting other partner agencies such as Habitat for Humanity that do new construction, either through allowable activities such as land acquisition, infrastructure and site development, and by providing financial assistance for low to moderate income homebuyers. These activities will be strategically pursued throughout the Annual Action Plan and Consolidated Plan planning periods.

The City also ensures decent and safe affordable housing opportunities by targeting codes enforcement to the CDBG target area. While not adding housing inventory, this strategy is an efficient and cost effective way to NOT lose inventory and to better maintain the quality and life of the existing housing stock. Targeted neighborhood-based code enforcement also means enhanced ability to work with property owners with legitimate hardships to complete needed repairs.

Because of the limited amount of funds available and the significant administrative resources required to operate and manage a rehabilitation program, home rehabilitation will be addressed through coordination and partnership with a non-profit provider.

AP-60 Public Housing – 91.220(h)

Introduction

The Cleveland Housing Authority has been serving Cleveland and Bradley County since 1959 and operates 434 conventional units of public housing on 14 scattered sites. As of June 2014, a total of 398 families resided in the public housing program and 202 families were participating in the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program totaling $2.1 million dollars of combined rental assistance to our community. Currently, the Public Housing waiting list is open with 189 families on the list. The Section 8 waiting list contains 76 families and remains closed due capacity and funding constraints. The average income of these residents remains at or below 30% of AMI. CHA financial support is derived from HUD in the form of Public Housing operating subsidy and Section 8 Housing Assistance funding.

Actions planned during the next year to address the needs to public housing

Significant numbers of the Cleveland Housing Authority’s units were built prior to the American Disabilities Act. Those units are walk-up units in need of modernization upgrades to improve accessibility and to increase the number of units that can be made available to persons with mobility issues. As stated in previous sections there is a growing demand for elderly and disabled housing units in the City. Likewise there is a need to reconfigure or develop new units that accommodate large families. At the same time, de-concentrating public housing units is a goal of the CHA. Meeting these somewhat conflicting goals concurrently will necessitate the acquisition of additional properties and the reprogramming and extensive reconfiguring of existing units.

The Cleveland Public Housing Authority is actively exploring opportunities and grants to modernize and redevelop properties where needed. In cases and applications where demolition might be feasible, the goal will be to reduce density, add green space and modern living features, and replace any reduction in total units with additional Section 8 vouchers. To add new units housing low income populations, CHA is evaluating the feasibility of a tax credit development and other forms of non-traditional public housing finance tools.
Actions to encourage public housing residents to become more involved in management and participate in homeownership

The Cleveland Housing Authority is currently in the process of updating its Public Housing Plan, which includes a five-year modernization and capital improvement plan and its processes for resident participation. The CHA supports its residents pursuing affordable homeownership opportunities and when appropriate works closely with other area non-profits to help residents become educated and financially qualified to meet that dream.

AP-65 Homeless and Other Special Needs Activities – 91.220(i)

Introduction

Cleveland has one primary facility for housing homeless persons. This is the Cleveland Emergency Shelter operated by the Bradley/Cleveland Community Services Agency. The Cleveland shelter has 42 beds and provides emergency shelter housing for males, females, and couples. The Executive Director reports that they can usually house anyone who needs housed, meaning they seldom turn anyone away who be unsheltered. The shelter receives ESG funding the State of Tennessee and uses those funds for essential services and homeless prevention (utility deposits, some arrearages, etc.). In addition to the Cleveland Emergency Shelter there is also a Harbor Safe House that can accommodate between 8 to 10 families who are victims of domestic violence. Life Bridges also provides services for mentally handicapped individuals to become more self-sufficient; to train them to perform everyday tasks and helps them to gain employment in the community. There is no transitional housing or permanent supportive housing in Cleveland, although the agencies mentioned provide wrap around type services, including life training, employment training, and other programming.

Describe the jurisdictions one-year goals and actions for reducing and ending homelessness including

Reaching out to homeless persons (especially unsheltered persons) and assessing their individual needs

The Homeless Needs Assessment in this Consolidated Plan is primarily based on point-in-time information provided to HUD by the Chattanooga/Southeast Tennessee Continuum of Care (CoC). These counts are done at least every other year and will continue throughout the consolidated planning period. CoC’s are required to provide an unduplicated count of homeless persons according to HUD standards. Where appropriate, anecdotal information and/or estimates by service providers are included in the Consolidated Plan narrative to support the need and extent of homelessness. Although homelessness is very visible in most U.S. communities, including Cleveland, TN, by its very nature it is extra difficult, particularly for smaller jurisdictions with fewer resources, to accurately document and quantify.

Outreach to homeless individuals is primarily done through case managers and staff at area shelters and health care facilities. These agencies are the key service providers for homeless needs and manage their programs to keep services in line with their assessment of needs and discussions with clients.
Addressing the emergency shelter and transitional housing needs of homeless persons

The City of Cleveland receives funding through the State of Tennessee Small Cities Emergency Shelter Grant program. These funds are sub-granted to the Cleveland Emergency Shelter for essential services and homelessness prevention. At this time there are no transitional housing options available within the City, however, this is routinely identified as a need and continues to be discussed. The Salvation Army is currently trying to raise funds for the development of transitional housing at this time.

Helping homeless persons (especially chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth) make the transition to permanent housing and independent living, including shortening the period of time that individuals and families experience homelessness, facilitating access for homeless individuals and families to affordable housing units, and preventing individuals and families who were recently homeless from becoming homeless again.

The City of Cleveland and the providers of services and emergency housing for the homeless are more focused on meeting immediate shelter needs. The need to end the cycle of homelessness is recognized, but limited resources and capacity, and the relatively small number of persons experiencing homelessness, restrict what can be accomplished and result in a focus more purely on daily health and safety issues.

The Bradley County Housing Coalition, a collaboration of nonprofit agencies, local government, and elected officials, is working to create a collaborative process, or Housing Spectrum, that assists individuals and families experiencing housing-related issues to move toward stable housing. In a nutshell, this process is a series of steps through which people can move to find affordable, stable housing. Each of these steps represents a group of organizations addressing a specific need. For instance, the first part of the Housing Spectrum is “Emergency Shelter.” This is the primary step many people experiencing homelessness need. In Bradley County, there are a few main organizations that address this need such as the Cleveland Emergency Shelter, Family Promise, and Harbor Safe House. The second step on the Housing Spectrum is “Transitional Housing.” Many people need this step after receiving emergency shelter before moving toward other housing options. The third step is “Social & Supportive Housing,” and a main organization that meets this need is the Cleveland Housing Authority. Ultimately, the last step on the Housing Spectrum is “Homeownership.”

Because every person and family has a unique experience and no housing issues are alike, some people can skip certain steps on the Housing Spectrum. Others may enter at the third step rather than the first step. Whatever the specific situation, this Housing Spectrum identifies the organizations that are involved in meeting the needs at each step. The Bradley County Housing Coalition is currently working to engage each of these organizations along the Housing Spectrum in a way that helps each organization realize where they are in the Spectrum, and what organizations come before and after them so that a healthy referral process can occur and be communicated to persons experiencing housing issues. Ideally, community members in need can then understand what organizations to turn to next in order to reach the end goal of affordable, stable housing.

Helping low-income individuals and families avoid becoming homeless, especially extremely low-income individuals and families and those who are: being discharged from publicly funded institutions and systems of care (such as health care facilities, mental health facilities, foster care and other youth facilities, and corrections programs and institutions); or, receiving assistance from public or private agencies that address housing, health, social services, employment, education, or youth needs.

The City of Cleveland receives funding through the State of Tennessee Small Cities Emergency Shelter Grant program. These funds are sub-granted to the Cleveland Emergency Shelter for essential services and homelessness prevention. Homeless prevention funds go for security and utility deposits, and in some cases for arrearages.
AP-75 Barriers to affordable housing – 91.220(j)

Introduction

Actions it planned to remove or ameliorate the negative effects of public policies that serve as barriers to affordable housing such as land use controls, tax policies affecting land, zoning ordinances, building codes, fees and charges, growth limitations, and policies affecting the return on residential investment

Educating and training the public of the importance of affordable housing opportunities throughout the city will be a priority. Professionals in the real estate community understand the needs of the community and may need to convene regularly to discuss how to make sure there are a range of housing types and incomes throughout all parts of the city may be an option.

Funding opportunities used by nonprofit developers could be matched or leveraged with other public-private partnerships made available to the city. The need to work with regional agencies and partners to create balance within the region may also be appropriate to create a viable and sustaining community for all.

The Bradley County Housing Coalition has been in existence for over a year is comprised of non-profit agencies, local government, and elected officials, whose purpose is to convene a collaborative spectrum of local service providers that assist and support those with housing-related issues (i.e. homelessness, unaffordable housing, land-lord tenant issues, etc.) The end-goal is to effectively help people make the transition from any of these issues to affordable, stable housing. The coalition has come together to help make people better informed of housing services so we can demonstrate “Point A” to “Point Z” or the “process” through which one can reach stable housing. Inherent to this objective is convening leaders from various sectors in the community to address barriers to affordable, stable housing.
AP-85 Other Actions – 91.220(k)

- Code enforcement in LMI (CDBG Target) area
- Affordable housing efforts with local nonprofit developers
- Public facility and infrastructure improvements in the CDBG Target area

Actions planned to reduce the number of poverty-level families

- Continued leveraging of resources in the CDBG target area which has a high concentration of poverty-level families
- Regional efforts to respond to the increased amount of jobs in the region

Actions planned to develop institutional structure

The gaps in the structure and service delivery system will include collaboration with the Chamber of Commerce, Cleveland State Community College, and Lee University students, administrators and faculty. Funding opportunities can be available through collaborative efforts between the city and many of its partners and regional outreach.
Actions planned to enhance coordination between public and private housing and social service agencies

The city will continue to partner with area public and private housing and social service agencies to help create livable communities for all the citizens of Cleveland. To increase leveraging and partnerships, the city may need to work with regional agencies for additional leveraging and innovative ideas for future development options.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PUBLIC HEARING
2015 ANNUAL ACTION PLAN
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2015
5:30 P.M.
POLICE SERVICE CENTER COMMUNITY ROOM

The second in a series of public hearings and meetings regarding the Community Development Block Grant Program’s 2015 Annual Action Plan was held on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 5:30 p.m. at the Police Service Center Community Room located at 100 Church Street NE. Twenty-three people attended the public hearing (sign-in sheet attached).

Teresa Torbett, CDBG Coordinator, welcomed those attending the meeting and introduced Councilmen Bill Estes, City Manager Janice Casteel, Recreation Department Director Patti Pettit and City Planner Corey Divel as representatives of the City of Cleveland.

Ms. Torbett began the meeting with a presentation covering the Consolidated Plan/Action Plan process, overview of the CDBG program, allocation for 2015, demographic and housing overview presented in the 2014-2019 Consolidated Plan, previously funded projects and current goals and projects of the program for the current year. Ms. Torbett also discussed the Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice Study that was prepared in 2014. The Fair Housing Act, protected classes, purpose of the AI and what is an impediment to fair housing. She also reviewed the impediments that were identified in during the AI process.

The meeting was opened to questions and comments.

Shneka Jones, Director of College Hill Recreation Center, stated that citizens utilizing the College Hill Recreation Center voiced the need for sidewalks around Mosby Park and for connectivity to the Recreation Center. Ms. Jones also supported the need for the additional parking that will be constructed with CDBG funds in the current year for Shepard Field.

Patti Pettit, Recreation Department Director, voiced her support for the multi-purpose fields to be located at Blythe Bower Elementary School on 20th Street SE. Ms. Pettit noted that this project would probably require phasing to accomplish (fields, irrigation, lighting, fencing, restrooms).

Kim Lorello, representing the Blythe Neighborhood Association, voiced support of park improvements at the Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Park.

Dudley Whaley, Director of the South Cleveland Community Center, requested consideration of fencing and bleachers for the ball fields at SCCC.

Matt Carlson, Director of Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland, stated his appreciation of previous assistance provided by partnership with the CDBG program in the form of down payment assistance, infrastructure funding and land for the development of affordable housing within the City of Cleveland. Mr. Carlson noted that for every $1 of CDBG funding was matched $5 to $1 by Habitat.

Mark Lorello, resident of the Blythe Avenue neighborhood, thanked the City for funding improvements in the Blythe/Ole Field neighborhood.
Cassandra Jordan, resident of The Summit (a tax credit property for low income housing), questioned the living conditions at the property. She wanted to know what the City might do regarding heat being cut off. Ms. Jordan is also interning at United Way for the Housing Coalition.

Dustin Tommy, Director of Impact Cleveland which is an initiative of United Way in the Blythe Avenue/Ole Field community, informed those in attendance of the submission of a TVA Energy Grant application for energy home repairs. Initially the application would address 125 homes at a cost of $1 million dollars. TVA came back and asked them to re-submit an application that would target a larger number of homes in the area. The revised application would include energy home repairs for up to 500 homes within the CDBG target area for up to $5 million. The application requires leveraging of funding from participating partners. Impact Cleveland is requesting CDBG financial assistance to be used for leveraging the TVA Energy Grant. All assistance would take place in Census Tract 107 located in the CDBG Target Area.

Mr. Tommy also voiced his support of positive changes and improvements to the Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Park.

Shady Hernandez, Neighbors in Need, noted that she works with clients who have difficulty finding affordable rents and decent housing opportunities. She stated that many elderly are living on $700 per month and are unable to pay $500-$600 per month for rent; improvements are needed at The Summit, and homeless individuals struggle to obtain housing because they do not have proper credit or cannot pass a background check even though they have income. Ms. Hernandez is part of the Housing Coalition and participated in the homeless count. As a result of the homeless point in time count, some questions on why people are homeless, who they and where they are located, and the type of case management needed to provide services.

Matt Carlson, Director Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland, also requested involvement and support of the City in the Housing Coalition which has been working for the past year on a Housing Spectrum to serve folks who are homeless to homeownership. Be active and informed.

Michelle Goldston asked what can be done about code enforcement not taking care of situations that have been reported. She noted a particular example. Janice Casteel, City Manager, asked for the specific address so City can follow-up with the complaint. She also voiced concern that slum lords are buying up foreclosed Habitat homes. Ms. Torbett stated that foreclosure has not been an issue with Habitat and if a foreclosure occurred Habitat (as lienholder) would sell the home to another qualified family. Matt Carlson, Director of Habitat for Humanity, stated that in 25 years and 125 homes only three homes had been foreclosed upon and those homes were sold to qualified families not to landlords.

Ms. Goldston also stated that many landlords charged weekly at a much higher rate that could be paid on a monthly basis. Ms. Hernandez stated that she works with tenants whose wages and budgeting skills were not adequate to pay on a monthly basis. She also mentioned that many landlords have tenants that do not pay and they are left losing money.
Ms. Torbett thanked everyone for taking time to participate in this opportunity for community input regarding the CDBG program. The following timeline outlines the remainder of the process for the 2015 Annual Action Plan:

- 30-day comment period for this public hearing ends March 25th
- Public meeting and draft Action Plan review is scheduled for April 9th
- 30-day comment period will end on May 6th
- Council approval at the May 11th City Council meeting
- Submission to HUD by May 15th

Ms. Torbett stated that written comments can be submitted via email to ttorbett@clevelandtn.gov or by mail to: Teresa Torbett, City of Cleveland, P.O. Box 1519, Cleveland, TN 37364-1519.

City of Cleveland
Community Development Department
Attn: Teresa Torbett
185 2nd Street N.E.
Cleveland, TN 37311

Dear Teresa:

Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland is a nonprofit organization that built its first home in Cleveland in 1991. We work directly with low-income and very low-income families (30-60% of median income), building homes and selling them with no profit, with a 0% interest 20-30 year loan. We work with the local community (business, churches, individuals, and civic organizations) for support and volunteer groups to help build homes. This year, we will be celebrating the completion of our 130th home and also the completion of 75 repair projects through our A Brush With Kindness program since 2012.

Partner families are required to do 400 hours of what we call “sweat equity”, through classes and on the construction of their own home. In FY2015-2016 we will be building ten homes and completing 30 of A Brush with Kindness projects. We will again be working in the CDBG target area with a big infrastructure project in one of our subdivisions, Victory Cove. We are asking for $150,000 to help fund Phase II infrastructure on this property, preparing the way for 15+ homes. By leveraging this CDBG funding, once finished Habitat for Humanity and the local community will have invested another $1.2 million into that property to house another 15+ families in need of decent, affordable housing.

If you have any questions about where our homes are being built in the CDBG area, or the timeline on construction of these homes, please give Matt Carlson a call at the Habitat for Humanity main office.

Thank you for your consideration and time in this matter.

Cordially,

Jeff Morelock
President, Board of Directors

Matt Carlson
Executive Director
Teresa Torbett

Subject: RE: Reminder of CDBG Public Meeting

Teresa,

Regrettably, I have a schedule conflict and will be unable to attend.
However, I will submit my comments in writing for your records. CHA will ask for some consideration for curbs/sidewalks at the Lay Street development as part of the redesign/redevelopment project that will follow the demolition of three buildings at that site late this summer.

Thanks,

Paul A. Delliger, MBA

CDBG seeks public input for Tuesday hearing

By JYOTIMAL LOVE
Banner-Daily Banner

Cleveland's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program is seeking public input for its upcoming hearing on Tuesday, March 1st at 5:30 p.m. at Cleveland City Hall.

The CDBG program is a federal program that provides funding to cities to improve community infrastructure, including roads, water, and sewer systems. The program also supports housing, community development, and economic development projects.

The hearing will provide an opportunity for the public to provide input on the CDBG program's activities and projects for the upcoming fiscal year. The Cleveland City Council will consider the input and may take action on the program's activities during the hearing.

The CDBG program is administered by the City of Cleveland and supervised by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The program is funded through a combination of federal and local funding sources.

The CDBG program has been in existence since 1974 and has provided funding for numerous community development projects, including those related to housing, economic development, and infrastructure improvements.

Citizens are encouraged to attend the hearing and provide input on the CDBG program's activities and projects. The hearing will be held in the City Hall Conference Room, located at 200 Public Square, Cleveland, Ohio 44114.
Housing needs get community’s focus

Posted Wednesday, February 25, 2015 11:33 am

By JOYANNA LOVE Banner Senior Staff Writer

Housing needs were the main concern for many at the Community Development Block Grant Public input meeting Tuesday.

Topics discussed included everything from the need for more affordable housing to asking that codes be enforced to deter “slumlords.”

CDBG coordinator Teresa Torbett said she would talk with codes enforcement to see what could be done to hold landlords responsible for improving the houses. Shady Hernandez of Neighbors in Need said because of the low income of many needing housing, apartments that would normally be considered “slums” will continue to be rented, “because it’s all they can afford.”

“If you have a home that is run down and you can get into that home for $300 a month, they don’t care what shape or form it’s in; they just want their children to be housed,” Hernandez said. “While there are people willing to rent them, you will never be able to get rid of them.”

She said more affordable, well-kept housing needs to be developed.

“There is not affordable housing,” Hernandez said. “The rents that are good (quality) are not affordable.”

In the past, grant funds have been used to help address affordable housing by partnering with Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland.

“I appreciate the partnership down through the years with downpayment assistance to make it easier for families,” Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland Director Matt Carlson said.

The grant program has also assisted Habitat in other ways, such as helping secure property.

“We hope to continue that support,” Carlson said. “The more we receive from CDBG the more we can leverage to build more homes. Right now, I think we are a doing a 5-and-1 ratio. You give us $1, we can get $5 more to build homes.”

http://clevelandbanner.com/stories/housing-needs-get-communitys-focus,3353?
Data collected through the CDBG consolidated plan process last year found that there is a larger number of renters than homeowners in the city of Cleveland.

Hernandez said there are many challenges in the community for low-income families to rent decent housing.

“We have a lot more rental units than we do those that are ... homeowners,” Hernandez said. “We have a lot of elderly in our community that are living at $735 a month. They cannot afford a $600 a month rent.”

Community members also asked that something be done at the Summit to ensure a better living environment.

A partnership with Impact Cleveland to renovate existing housing was pitched.

Dustin Tommey of Impact Cleveland said the organization had applied for an Extreme Energy Makeover Grant from TVA, which would enable the group to make homes more energy efficient by 25 percent.

If Impact Cleveland is awarded the grant, it could help 125 to 500 homes, depending on the level at which the grant proposal is funded.

“If we get this grant it would be potentially $5 million invested into the CDBG target area,” Tommey said. “We are trying to leverage as many dollars as possible ... if CDBG could help us leverage that over the next few years, that would be great.”

Last year, CDBG found that many do not know what rights they have under fair housing laws. In response to this, radio announcements were aired and meetings were held to educate the public on these laws. More awareness meetings are planned for this year.

“We are going to be doing one that is targeting tenants,” Torbett said. ‘We are also going to be doing one targeting landlords to try to get them to buy in to know what is expected.”

Housing opportunities for the homeless were discussed as a community need.

“You have also a homeless community. Some of them do get income, but they can’t afford to be anywhere,” Hernandez said. “If the city would come and meet with the Housing Coalition (of United Way) we are starting with the census we just did a few weeks ago, and we are finding some of the reasons for homelessness in our community.”

She said many of those who are homeless in Cleveland do have some type of income. She suggested the establishment of a housing community specifically for this population, complete with a case manager.

“Maybe a tiny home community, which has been very helpful in some states,” Hernandez said.
Current building codes may pose a challenge to the establishment of a tiny-home community.

“Right now with the cost of groceries, it is either groceries or you living somewhere,” Hernandez said. “I would like us to consider that.”

Mortgage lending practices were also seen as an obstacle to fair housing in the community.

Carlson encouraged CDBG and the city to partner with the Housing Coalition. The Coalition is developing a spectrum of housing across the community.

“I have learned a lot already even in the few meetings that I’ve been,” Torbett said. “I think they are on the right track for having a framework to go out and try to get that extra support.”

CDBG projects are required to meet one of three national objectives for the program.

It has to benefit those of low or moderate income, prevent or eliminate areas from slums and blight areas or address an urgent community need.

The project must also provide decent housing, create better living environments, or expand community members opportunities’ for economic advancement.

This year the local CDBG will receive $345,924.

Recreation projects were also discussed Tuesday.

Shneka Jones, director of the College Hill Recreation Center, said community members would like to see sidewalks surrounding Mosby Park leading to College Hill.

Parks and Recreation Director Patti Petitt said she is in support of a multipurpose field. The field would be built behind Blythe-bower Elementary School and would be designed in such a way that many sports, such as football, soccer and baseball, could be played on the same field.

“That would probably be more than a one-year project,” Torbett said. “It would be more like a phase-in.”

Community members also took time to express appreciation for the work that was already being done.

“We are glad that you are considering our park (Blythe Family Support Center park) and the steps we are looking at to improve it,” Kim Lorello said.

“I would just like to thank the City Council and the city in general for some of the funding that has been occurring over in the neighborhood (Blythe Oldfield),” Mark Lorello said. “I think it is greatly needed.”
Comments and additional ideas are being taken by Torbett’s office until March 25, then another meeting will be held on April 9. Torbett can be contacted at ttorbett@clevelandtn.gov or by calling 423-479-1913.

Community Development Block Grant

Notice of CDBG Public Meeting on February 24, 2015.

About the Program
The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program was enacted into law as part of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. It is a formula-allocated program that provides grants to eligible grantees; Cities with populations over 50,000, urban counties with more than 200,000 people, and states.

Purpose
CDBG’s main purpose is to provide, decent, safe and sanitary housing, a suitable living environment and economic opportunities to low and moderate income (defined as household not exceeding 50% of the median income of the area) and moderate income (defined as less than 50% of the median income) people. CDBG remains the principal source of revenue for localities to utilize in devising flexible and comprehensive neighborhood strategies to prevent physical, economic, and social deterioration in lower income neighborhoods throughout the nation.

Cleveland’s Block Grant
The City of Cleveland became a CDBG entitlement city in 2004. The city’s block grant is administered by the Development and Engineering Services Department. Cleveland has received a total of $3,232,351 from 2004-2013. In 2013-2014, Cleveland’s revised allocation of CDBG funds is $353,451.

Consolidated Plan
In 2009, the city adopted its most recent five-year consolidated plan. The current action plan is the fifth and final annual plan that will be issued to support the 5-Year Consolidated Plan. The purpose of the action plan is to inform the public how the City of Cleveland expects to allocate the federal resources made available through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Development and Engineering Services uses the information in the action plan to guide its efforts and measure how effectively the city employs HUD funding to meet the needs of residents, particularly those related to decent affordable housing and creating a suitable living environment. HUD uses the action plan as a benchmark to evaluate the city’s Consolidated Annual Performance Evaluation Report (CAPER) submitted at the end of each program year.

Citizen Involvement
In a continuing effort to meet the needs of Cleveland’s residents, we encourage Citizen Participation in the planning process for community development activities. The department conducts public hearings at least twice each year. Hearings are publicized in the local newspaper and on the city’s website.

You are invited to call the City of Cleveland’s Development and Engineering Services Department at 479-1913, and get involved with your community.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PUBLIC HEARING
2015-2016 ANNUAL ACTION PLAN
MONDAY, APRIL 20TH, 2015
5:00 P.M.
POLICE SERVICE CENTER COMMUNITY ROOM

The third in a series of public hearings and meetings regarding the Community Development Block Grant Program’s 2015 Annual Action Plan was held on Monday, April 20, 2015 at 5:00 p.m. at the Police Service Center Community Room located at 100 Church Street NE. Twenty-three people attended the public meeting (sign-in sheet attached).

Teresa Torbett, CDBG Coordinator, welcome those attending the meeting. Ms. Torbett began the meeting with a presentation covering the history of the CDBG program and overview of how the CDBG program. She discussed primary objectives and national objectives required for the program. The Consolidated Plan/Action Plan/CAPER process and timeline were reviewed as well as the funding allocation process. Ms. Torbett noted that all projects and activities will take place within the CDBG target area within the City of Cleveland.

Previously funded projects were reviewed. Current goals and projects for 2014-2015 include the construction of a parking lot for Shepard Field located at College Hill Recreation Center, improvements to the Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Park, funding for a Codes Inspector for the CDBG target area, and planning and construction of multi-purpose fields at Blythe Bower Elementary School. The Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Park and multi-purpose fields at Blythe Bower Elementary will be multi-year projects.

Proposed projects for 2015-2016 include infrastructure for Victory Cove, an affordable housing subdivision developed by Habitat for Humanity, to increase availability of affordable housing. CDBG funds were previously used to purchase the property at Victory Cove. Housing improvement funds are planned to be used in conjunction with TVA Energy Grant submitted by Impact Cleveland, a non-profit, to focus in reducing energy costs within a targeted area of low and moderate income households (pending approval of the grant). CDBG funding will also be used in continuation of recreation improvements – multi-purpose fields at Blythe Bower Elementary School.

The meeting was opened to the questions and comments.

Demetrius Ramsey, Director of Bradley/Cleveland Community Services Agency, asked if the CDBG program would be coordinating efforts regarding sidewalks that have been discussed at other public meetings by Greg Thomas. Ms. Torbett stated that Mr. Thomas manages the MPO and is working on a multi-modal grant that will be providing sidewalks and bus shelters within the CDBG target area.

Jeff Morelock, Chairman of the Board for Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland, asked if sidewalks were included in the infrastructure funding for Victory Cove. Ms. Torbett noted that past infrastructure projects (Century Village) the cost of the infrastructure installation was more than the amount allocated by the CDBG program and that Habitat had provided additional funds for the project. A set-amount will be dedicated to infrastructure and sidewalks could be included if the project is less than the designated amount.
Alma Dodson, a business owner, also noted the need for sidewalks in Census Tract 104. She stated that funds need to be allocated for that area for sidewalks and housing improvements as well.

Dustin Tommey, Director of Impact Cleveland, gave an overview of the grant application submitted to TVA for the Extreme Energy Makeover Grant. The original application would make energy improvements to approximately 300 homes within the Blythe Avenue area. TVA liked their application and asked if they could do more homes if funding was available. A revised application was submitted that would include up to 500 homes in an expanded area. The purpose of the grant is to provide energy retrofits that will provide a 25% power usage reduction. TVA is scheduled to announce the grant awards in June.

Kim Lorello, Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Association, voiced her support of improvements to the Blythe Avenue Neighborhood Park. She stated that community input had been well received and she is excited about the coming improvements to the park. She asked when the improvements might start. Ms. Torbett stated that planning is currently underway for a master plan and coordination with private investors is also underway.

Mark Lorello, resident of the Blythe Avenue area, noted that he had been to the previous meeting and was glad that different people were participating in the process. He also voiced his support of the proposed projects and that the money was being spread area and not in just one area.

Dustin Tommey, Impact Cleveland, also inquired about the possibility of clearance funding for dilapidated housing within the Blythe area.

Ms. Torbett thanked everyone for attending and participating in the planning process for the CDBG program. Next steps were outlined and included: Comment period ends on May 6; Review by Planning Commission on April 21st; Council Approval May 11th and submission to HUD May 15th. Written comments may be submitted via email: ttorbett@clevelandtn.gov or mail: P.O. Box 1519, Cleveland, TN 37364-1519.

Ms. Torbett also announced a Tenants Rights Workshop that will be held on April 30th from 5:30 to 7:00 at the Police Service Center Community Room. The workshop is being sponsored by the City of Cleveland, Impact Cleveland, Cleveland Housing Authority and Legal Aid of East Tennessee.

Community Development Block Grant

Notice of CDBG Public Hearing on April 20, 2015.

About the Program
The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program was enacted into law as part of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. It is a formula-allocated program that provides grants to eligible grantees; cities with populations over 50,000, urban counties with more than 200,000 people, and states.

Purpose
CDBG's main purpose is to provide, decent, safe and sanitary housing, a suitable living environment and economic opportunities to low and moderate income (defined as household not exceeding 50% of the median income of the area) and moderate income (defined as less than 50% of the median income) people. CDBG remains the principal source of revenue for localities to utilize in devising flexible and comprehensive neighborhood strategies to prevent physical, economic, and social deterioration in lower income neighborhoods throughout the nation.

Cleveland's Block Grant
The City of Cleveland became a CDBG entitlement city in 2004. The city's block grant is administered by the Development and Engineering Services Department. Cleveland has received a total of $3,232,351 from 2004-2013. In 2013-2014, Cleveland's revised allocation of CDBG funds is $353,451.

Consolidated Plan
In 2009, the city adopted its most recent five-year consolidated plan. The current action plan is the fifth and final annual plan that will be issued to support the 5-Year Consolidated Plan. The purpose of the action plan is to inform the public how the City of Cleveland expects to allocate the federal resources made available through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Development and Engineering Services uses the information in the action plan to guide its efforts and measure how effectively the city employs HUD funding to meet the needs of residents, particularly those related to decent affordable housing and creating a suitable living environment. HUD uses the action plan as a benchmark to evaluate the city's Consolidated Annual Performance Evaluation Report (CAPER) submitted at the end of each program year.

Citizen Involvement
In a continuing effort to meet the needs of Cleveland's residents, we encourage Citizen Participation in the planning process for community development activities. The department conducts public hearings at least twice each year. Hearings are publicized in the local newspaper and on the city's website.

You are invited to call the City of Cleveland's Development and Engineering Services Department at 479-1913, and get involved with your community.

Partners are drafting ideas and pledging funds for the renovation efforts of the Bythe-Oldfield neighborhood community playground.

During a recent Cleveland City Council meeting, Teresa Torbett, who coordinates the Community Development Block Grant, outlined the project's progress.

Torbett said she had funds set aside in this CDBG funding cycle. Fred Garmon of People for Care and Learning has spoken with Torbett about the organization being involved in the project.

"He is really excited," Torbett said. "He wants to do something really good there."

A unique aspect for this CDBG project is private donors expressing interest in the project.

"We have had quite a bit of interest in private investment and about donations," Torbett said. Jackson Manufacturing is one of them. "Through the years, many of their workers have lived in that area, so they are very interested in giving back," Torbett said.

As specific plans for the future are developing, PlayCore has offered to help with the "design phase." Torbett said PlayCore is a for-profit company and is known as a leader in the industry.

"We met them on the site with these other players involved," Torbett said.

The brainstorming session harvested some good ideas for the future, Torbett said. A draft of the project plan has been drawn. The ultimate rebuilding of the playground can be done in phases as funding becomes available, Torbett said.

The project has also partnered with the Smart Community Initiative. University of Tennessee students have created two Indiegogo pages to solicit donations for the project.

"In the area of the Bythe-Oldfield Park, CDBG funds have not been spent in a long time," Torbett said.

She said funds had been used for neighborhood revitalization in the '80s and a codes enforcement officer in the area, but that was it.

"One of the things that we would really like to accomplish through this project is to provide a place that would create a sense of community... for the kids..."
in the area and the adults in the area," Torbett said.

Having a definite plan could help solidify more financial support for the project. Once a concrete plan is developed, potential donors may see a specific element they like and choose to donate to make it a reality, Torbett said.

She said the older neighborhoods, such as the Blythe-Oldfield community, have smaller lot sizes and thus smaller yards.

In a previous meeting on the subject, Blythe-Oldfield Community Association president Kim Lorello said the yards are too small for neighbors to host large outdoor events.

"Most people in the community are walkers. Our closest official park is Mosby," Lorello said.

She said parents do not allow their children to walk that far.

"This is something that would be appreciated and very well received in the area," Torbett said.

Since a decision has not been made on whether a modular early Head Start classroom will be removed from the site or not, two plans are being developed. One has the modular on the site.

"One of the things that we would really like to accomplish through this project is to provide a place that would create a sense of community ... for the kids in the area and the adults in the area."

The other could be used if the building was moved.

"Regardless of what happens with that building, we are committed to rebuilding that park," Torbett said.

Family Resource Agency, which owns the Early Head Start portable classroom, entered into a two-year lease for the property with the city of Cleveland nearly five years ago. The lease has not been renewed, but the portable classroom remains on the spot.

Councilman Bill Estes recommended giving the organization until June of next year to move the modular. Estes has been adamant that the classroom does need to be moved out of the park area.

Torbett said if they knew it was actually going to move, it would not hurt the long-term plan to have it remain for one year.

"I'm thrilled you are working on this," Estes said.

Councilman David May said if the Council voted to have the Family Resource Agency move the modular in a year, "we need to stay involved" to ensure it actually happens.

"I remember several times that this area, especially the Blythe community has been used for us to get grant funding ... and even though we get the money sometimes it doesn't make it back to the community," Johnson said.

"But I know yours will," Johnson said to Torbett. "It's time for us to put some support back in that community ... I think what they are doing is great. I just can't see us waiting around another year."

The City Council did not vote on the issue, but is expected to discuss it further next month. The governing body gives the final approval on which projects will be funded through the local CDBG program.

A meeting discussing future projects will be held at 5 p.m. Monday, in the Cleveland Police Service Center Community Room on Church Street.
Housing, recreation lead CDBG projects

A plan for proposed Community Development Block Grant projects for next year was announced Monday.

Housing and recreation are the main focus of the plan.

"We don't have a lot of money, and we really try to do things that will have a bigger impact on the most people," CDBG coordinator Teresa Torbett said.

The local CDBG program will receive $345,924 from the U.S.

Department of Housing and Urban Development next year.

Infrastructure for Victory Cove is a priority.

Victory Cove is a subdivision developed by Habitat for Humanity, which CDBG has partnered with in the past. Torbett said CDBG funds were used toward purchasing the land for the houses.

"It will help increase availability and affordability for lower income housing," Torbett said.

There are eight houses constructed already.

"To continue the development there actually needs to be more infrastructure. We need to put a street in there so we can make use of the land and get the largest number of lots possible," Torbett said.

At this point, Torbett is unsure whether the amount of money she has set aside for the project will be enough to include a sidewalk.

Funds will also be used to partner with Impact Cleveland to make energy conserving upgrades to homes in the Blythe-Oldfield community. This project would move forward if Impact Cleveland receives the TVA Extreme Energy Makeover for which it has applied. If received, the grant would fund improvements for up to 500 homes to make them 25 percent more energy efficient.

"I think it would be great opportunity to jump-start a lot of improvements in that area," Torbett said.

As it has since 2004, CDBG funds will also fund code enforcement in the area. This funding has made it possible for a code enforcement officer to focus on the CDBG service area.

Torbett said this money goes beyond simply paying a code enforcement officer's salary, but also provides funding for other costs associated with the office. CDBG funds will contribute $65,000 next year.

"I know that everyone that has been a part of it is kind of anxiously, hopefully waiting just to see what happens, because we have such an open ability to make improvements," said Blythe-Oldfield Community Association president Kim Lorello. "We are really grateful to have a group of people that heard us and worked with us."

Torbett said she hopes to phase in improvements in such a way that the updated part could be used even if the entire master plan is not completed.

A multipurpose field and baseball fields behind Blythe-Bower Elementary will have to be funded over multiple years.

"It's very expensive, unfortunately, to do that kind of thing, so we may get grading done and irrigation in on one part," Torbett said. "Then continue it later."

City Parks and Recreation would maintain the fields.

The City Planning Commission will review the proposed projects tonight. The Cleveland City Council has the ultimate vote on which projects are funded.

If approved by the City Council, the plans will go to HUD.

CDBG projects are required to meet one of three national objectives for the program.

It has to benefit those of low or moderate income, prevent or eliminate areas from being slums and blight areas or address an urgent community need.

The project must also provide decent housing, create better living environments, or expand community members opportunities for economic advancement.

Community Development Department
Attn: Teresa Torbett
185 2nd Street N.E.
Cleveland, TN 37311

Dear Teresa:

Habitat for Humanity of Cleveland is a nonprofit organization that built its first home in Cleveland in 1991. We work directly with low-income and very low-income families (30-60% of median income), building homes and selling them with no profit, with a 0% interest 20-30 year loan. We work with the local community (business, churches, individuals, and civic organizations) for support and volunteer groups to help build homes. This year, we will be celebrating the completion of our 130th home and also the completion of 75 repair projects through our A Brush With Kindness program since 2012.

Partner families are required to do 400 hours of what we call “sweat equity”, through classes and on the construction of their own home. In FY2015-2016 we will be building ten homes and completing 30 of A Brush with Kindness projects. We will again be working in the CDBG target area with a big infrastructure project in one of our subdivisions, Victory Cove. We are asking for $150,000 to help fund Phase II infrastructure on this property, preparing the way for 15+ homes. By leveraging this CDBG funding, once finished Habitat for Humanity and the local community will have invested another $1.2 million into that property to house another 15+ families in need of decent, affordable housing.

If you have any questions about where our homes are being built in the CDBG area, or the timeline on construction of these homes, please give Matt Carlson a call at the Habitat for Humanity main office.

Thank you for your consideration and time in this matter.

Cordially,

Jeff Morelock

Subject: RE: Reminder of CDBG Public Meeting

Teresa,
Regrettably, I have a schedule conflict and will be unable to attend. However, I will submit my comments in writing for your records. CHA will ask for some consideration for curbs/sidewalks at the Lay Street development as part of the redesign/redevelopment project that will follow the demolition of three buildings at that site late this summer.

Thanks,
